

IOSH Safety for Executives and Directors

Health & Safety Leadership Starts at the Top

Equip your senior leaders with the knowledge and confidence to lead health and safety effectively

The IOSH Safety for Executives and Directors course is designed specifically for senior leaders who hold responsibility for organisational health and safety.

This practical course helps directors and executives understand their legal responsibilities, strengthen safety leadership, and ensure their organisation has the systems, culture and governance needed to manage risk effectively.

Delivered by Ligtas' expert trainers, the course provides a clear and engaging overview of how leadership decisions directly influence safety performance.

What Leaders Will Learn

- The legal responsibilities of directors and senior leaders
- How leadership behaviour shapes safety culture
- How to integrate safety into business strategy and governance
- The role leaders play in risk management and incident prevention
- How to demonstrate visible commitment to safety

Delivery Options

- Delivered exclusively for your leadership team
- Live virtual delivery or in-person at your preferred training venue
- Tailored to reflect the real risks and operations of your organisation
